HUMOROUS.

—"Harry, you ought not to throw away nice bread like that; you may want it some day." "Well, mother, should I stand any better show of getting it then if I ate it now?"

—The widows of India having been prevented by the tyrannous English from cremating themselves along with their dead lords, have taken to second marriages. They are determined to sacrifice themselves somehow. —Prairie Farmer.

—Two Philadelphia lawyers got into a street fight the other day. Each swore if he had a pistol he'd kill the other. At once a dozen were offered to each by spectators. When they found how anxious the populace was to get rid of them, they swore friendship and vowed to live forever, to spite the town. —Philadelphia Press.

—Some scientist in London has been translating the songs of our childhood into the language of the learned. The little piping rhyme beginning "Twinkle, twinkle, little star," has been changed into this rhetorical blast from the tombstone:

Schillate, scintillate, globule vivifie;
Faint would I fathom thy nature specific.
Loftily poised in ether capacious,
Strongly resembling a gem carbonaceous.

—"Ma," howled a boy running into the house and approaching his mother, "ma, little brother hit me with a stick." "Well, I'll whip your little brother," said the mother, abstractedly tucking together a pair of stockings she had been darning. "No, don't whip him. Don't let him have any supper. I whipped him before he hit me." —Arkansas Traveller.

—A couple of darkeys were seated on the steps of a store on Baldwin street, Elmira, where was displayed a large quantity of watermelons, when one said: "Sambo, what would be the consequences if we should pluck one of dem melons an' retire to de bed ob de ole canal to test de quality ob de core?" "I isn't very well versed in de law, but you take de melon an' walk off wid it under your coat-tail, meantime I'll go roun' de corner and study de consequences." —Millerton (N. Y.) Argus.

—A German paper has rather a good story about a lady who, not feeling as well as she liked, went to consult a physician. "Well," said the doctor, after looking at her tongue, feeling her pulse, and asking her sundry questions, "I should advise you, yes, I should advise you—ahem!—to get married." "Are you sing'e, doctor?" inquired the fair patient, with a significant yet modest smile. "I am, mein Fraulein; but it is not e'quette, you know, for physicians to take the physic they prescribe."

—At a party the other evening the subject of faith was mentioned, when one young lady remarked, in the language of Paul: "Now, faith is the substance of things hoped for, and the evidence of things not seen." Whereupon a gentleman inquired: "Where is that quotation from?" "Why, it's from Shakespeare," jokingly replied the young lady. "Is that so?" said the young man; "why, I thought it was from Byron." His next Christmas present will be a copy of the New Testament revised edition.

Matrimonial Intelligence.

"Is it a fact," asked one Austin young lady of another Austin young lady, "that you have consented to marry young Spooner, and are going to be married right off?"

"Yes, we are engaged."

"Why, he has not got any money, he is ugly, and he is dying with consumption. He won't live two months."

"That's the very reason I marry him. Black is so becoming to me, that I ought to have been a widow years and years ago." —Times, Saturday.

Idaho Jurisprudence.

Justice O'Sniffin, up at Blackfoot, tried his first case last week. He has some crude notions about even-handed justice, and claims to be thoroughly up on parliamentary etiquette.

The case was one in which Don Quixote Centipede was charged with the larceny of one sorrel mule, the property of Claude Menotte Rooney, valued at $75. at the county and Territory afore-said, and on the 10th day of October, 1882, and that on said day the said Don Quixote Centipede did take, steal and ride away and drive away the mule aforesaid, contrary to the statutes in such case made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the Territory of Idaho.

The case was tried, and defendant having been found guilty, the justice was about to sentence him to the penitentiary for life, when the counsel called the attention of the Court to the fact that, as an examining magistrate, he only had authority to bind Mr. Centipede over for his appearance at the next term of the District Court. Judge O'Sniffin therefore modified his judgment to the requirement of a bond for $500 for defendant's appearance as aforesaid. Defendant's counsel then rose and stated that owing to certain irregularities and peculiarities developed in the case, he would make a motion for a new trial.

"Gentlemen," said Judge O'Sniffin to the bystanders, "you have a motion, do I hear a second?"

An eccentric horse-thief on the back seat seconded the motion.

"Gentlemen," resumed his Honor, "you have heard the motion. Are you ready for the question?"

"Question!"

"The motion has been made and seconded that the defendant Centipede be given a new trial. All those in favor will say 'aye.'"

Big chorus of ayes.

"Those opposed will say 'no.'"

"It's a vote. The prisoner will be granted a new trial."

The West is full of self-made men who are not very familiar with Estee's Pleading and High on Injunction, but if you think they are not familiar with parliamentary usages, you do not know them. —Detroit Free Press.

Locked His Pocket-Book Out Doors.

There is a man in this city who is considerably given to speculation; goes out into the country and buys a few car-loads of potatoes or anything else that he thinks he can turn to advantage. The other day he gathered together every cash dollar he had, and borrowed all the spare cash that a merchant friend of his had, the whole aggregating quite a large sum of money, with a view to a speculative trip with plenty. That night he was very careful to see that all the doors and windows in the house were securely closed. When he arose in the morning he threw up the window to see if the milk-man had got around, when, much to his horror, his eye lit upon his pocket-book in the grass near the garden walk. The first idea was that it had been stolen, rifled and thrown there. He rushed down stairs, and much to his joy found the pocket-book all safe, with contents intact. It seems that he had stepped into the garden the previous evening to get a plant, and in stooping the wallet slipped from his pocket. —Portland (Me.) Press.

—There is a law among the Omaha Indians relating to widows that is more terrible than the inquisition of ancient times, with all its diabolical tortures. Among the Omahas, widows must wait four years before remarrying.

HOAR has been re-elected Senator in Massachusetts.

RANSOM was elected United States Senator in North Carolina and Cullom, Republican, in Illinois.

DURING the year just closed Newport had nearly 208 deaths from small-pox. Thirty cases are under treatment there.

THE friends of the Lowell Bankrupt Bill are confident it will pass the Senate, but expect it to fail in the House. A large proportion of the latter body, particularly the members from the South, are opposed to the enactment of a bankrupt law of any character.

THE National Republican Committee has agreed that the basis of representation in the next Republican Presidential convention shall be two delegates for each Senator, two for each member of Congress and two delegates for each Territory and for the District of Columbia.

THE Augusta Chronicle is rather severe in its criticism of W. W. Cleary, Commonwealth Attorney of that district, for his failure to appear for the State at the trial of Ivan Bowman, for murder. The fact that he was engaged in a civil case at Covington, the Chronicle thinks, is no valid excuse for his absence.

An extensive cocking main took place near Cleveland, Tuesday. There were 27 cocks present from Pendleton county, Ky., 50 from Cincinnati, a number from West Virginia, and many of the neighboring towns.

A St. Louis despatch says: Miss Zerelda Garrison has been taken East by her uncle, O. L. Garrison, by the advice of family physicians, to be placed in an asylum for the treatment of nervous diseases. A card signed by Doctors G. S. Walker and C. W. Stevens will be published in the afternoon Post-Dispatch, in which they state that a full examination of her mental condition showed the young lady to be deficient in the development of her mental faculties to such an extent as to make her irresponsible at times for her actions. Irregularities in natural functions well known to family physicians account for this. With regard to her physical condition, the examination warranted the conclusion that she was not subjected to any physical violation during the time of her disappearance.

AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLS are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calomel or any other injurious ingredient.

A Sufferer from Headache writes:

"AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant companion. I have been a severe sufferer from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers."

W. L. PAGE, of W. L. Page & Bro., Franklin St., Richmond, Va., June 3, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S PILLS in numberless instances as recommended by you, and have never known them to fail to accomplish the desired result. We constantly keep them on hand at our home, and prize them as a pleasant, safe, and reliable family medicine. FOR DYSPESIA they are invaluable. J. T. HAYES."

Mexia, Texas, June 17, 1882.

The REV. FRANCIS B. HARLOWE, writing from Atlanta, Ga., says: "For some years past I have been subject to constipation, from which, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds, I suffered increasing inconvenience, until some months ago I began taking AYER'S PILLS. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health."

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS correct irregularities of the bowels, stimulate the appetite and digestion, and by their prompt and thorough action give tone and vigor to the whole physical economy.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

FRIDAY EVE., JANUARY 19, 1883.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

ALL the little tads in town
Should interview their "paps,"
And raise a stake to pass them in
To hear that funny "Scraps."
And every grown-up in the town,
Should go and get a seat,
Or else he'll tear his hair next day
At missing such a treat.

THERE are 635 patients in the insane asylum at Lexington.

A FRIEND should bear with his friend's infirmities but never his vices.

THE Court of Appeals has affirmed the decision of the Mason Circuit Court in the case of Russell against Gray's Executrix.

MR. J. R. McMILLEN, traveling agent for the Adams Express Company, has established offices at Poplar Plains and Hillsboro.

MRS. MARIA POLLITT, widow of the late George Pollitt, died at her home near Mt. Olivet church, on Thursday morning after a long illness.

ROBERT CLARKE & Co., of Cincinnati, have lately printed new editions of "The Moneyless Man," and "Jacob Brown," by Henry T. Stanton.

OYSTERS are much lower in price this week than usual as you will find by consulting the price list of John Wheeler, printed elsewhere in this paper. He sells only the best brands.

THE "Jolly Pathfinders" will arrive by the Bonanza this evening and will appear at the Opera House to-night as announced. The entertainment will be an excellent one and those who fail to see it will miss a rare musical treat.

MR. S. J. DAUGHERTY, proprietor of the marble works, has in his stock some very handsome monuments and head-stones, of the finest quality of marble and of the latest designs. His prices are low and his work always the best.

THE BULLETIN is indebted to the "Merry Dancing Club," of Ripley, for an invitation to a mask ball to be given on the 5th proximo. If we may judge by the names given as the Committee of Arrangements, the affair will be well managed and a success.

MR. CHARLES PHISTER has been appointed Solicitor for the Maysville Water Company and is now actively engaged in the discharge of his duties. He is sure to prove active and zealous in the interest of his employers. The appointment is a good one.

MR. ED. MITCHEL, one of Maysville's foremost business men and best citizens, has bought an interest in the business of Messrs T. K. Ball & Son, proprietors of the Maysville Foundry, and it will hereafter be conducted under the firm name of Ball, Mitchel & Co. The business in future will be on a much larger scale.

ABOUT one o'clock this morning near Limestone bridge, Jeff Hancock, of East Maysville, was shot and slightly wounded in the shoulder. Jack Newell, Henry Newell, jr., and Frank Wheeler were arrested this morning charged with the shooting, and are having an examination before the Mayor to-day. The young men deny having shot at Hancock and say they heard no shots in the neighborhood at that time.

Tobacco Notes.

Louisville sold during 1882 53,121 hogsheads of leaf tobacco.

Zimmer's Spanish tobacco seed is largely used in some parts of Ohio, particularly at Miamisburg.

The crop of tobacco grown in Eastern Kentucky and the adjoining cutting districts during the year past is estimated at 90,000 hogsheads.

A resolution adopted last December by the Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Association repealing the rule requiring the names of owners to be affixed to all samples drawn by the Inspector does not meet with approval of the leading buyers and they have protested against it. The Association will probably rescind its rule.

The imports of Sumatra tobacco into New York during 1882 amounted to only one million pounds. The Western Tobacco Journal says: It is something insignificant when compared with a consumption and export of more than one hundred million pounds of domestic and Havana tobacco, and it shows that the hue and cry raised against Sumatra tobacco is more the outcome of agitation on the part of individuals whose motives are wholly selfish, then the outgrowth of considerate reasoning as to demonstrative facts.

The statement from the Treasury Department shows a remarkable decrease in receipts from the tobacco tax since the agitation of the question of reduction began. In four of the principal tobacco districts, in New Jersey and Virginia, the receipts, have fallen from $1,585,073 in November and December of 1881, to $923,906 in the corresponding months of 1882. It is probable that the entire tobacco tax receipts will fall off nearly two and a half million of dollars for the past sixty days, as compared with the corresponding period of last year.

KENTUCKY wool is quoted in the Eastern markets as follows: Washed fleece, 33 and 38 cents; unwashed fleece, 22 and 30 cents; unwashed combing, 26 and 35 cents. The new year, it is said, opens with a somewhat uncertain aspect for the wool trade. Manufacturers are not over sanguine as to the market for heavy goods about opening, and while the mills will most of them run, even at a loss, it is hardly probable that the demand will be sufficient to advance prices to any extent unless in special grades. There will be no general demand for wool until the tariff question is disposed of. The bill as proposed by the Committee on Ways and Means, in its wool provisions, is not likely to affect the value of domestic fleeces.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mrs. Starkey, of Michigan, is the guest of Mrs George T. Simonds at the Central Hotel.

Miss Mamie Cooper, of Flemingsburg, is the guest of her uncle, Mr. Charles H. Cooper.

Mrs. J. T. Strode is at Covington at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. R. T. Cummings, who is very sick.

ONE of the most delightful country places in this neighborhood is now for sale. It is "Edgewood," the property of Mr. William Huff, on the Lexington turnpike a short distance over a mile from Maysville. The place contains about seventeen acres and has been handsomely improved by its successive owners, who have been men of taste and means. It is a very desirable place for a market gardener, as the land is fertile and produces abundantly. Read the advertisement, elsewhere.

FOR rubber stamps of all kinds, call on A. Soeries & Son. Prices very low.

AYER's Hair Vigor improves the beauty of the hair and promotes its growth. It imparts an attractive appearance, a delightful and lasting perfume. While it stimulates the roots, cleanses the scalp, and adds elegance to luxuriance, its effects are enduring; and thus it proves itself to be the best and cheapest article for toilet use.

The National Board of Trade at a recent meeting in Washington affirmed the necessity of a general bankrupt law and recommended the passage of the Lowell measure.

Irish News.

Much distress is reported from several districts in county Longford.

Philip B. Roach, a native of Baltinglass, county Wicklow, was drowned recently at New Orleans.

At Sligo Winter, Assizes Justice Lawson sentenced several moonlighters to seven years' penal servitude.

Nearly 1,000 applications for immigration under the Arrears Act have been made in the Westport Union, county Mayo.

The poor of Cavan are in a pitiable condition. Subscriptions are being taken up for them by the authorities, and the land thieves refuse to subscribe.

An old woman named Mrs. Mary McKee was found dead, having been run over by a train on the Great Northern Railway, near Newry, county Down.

The sentence of death passed on Eliza Smith for child murder at the recent Ulster Winter Assizes, Belfast, has been commuted to transportation for life.

The Coroner's Jury on the victims of the fire at a match factory, at Belfast, recommended that the factory should in future be conducted with greater caution.

The Dublin police force have received the grant of three months' extra back pay which had been voted in consideration of their extra duties during the past three years.

Father McFadden, P. P., of Derrybeg Gweedore, county Donegal, has written to the Freeman, stating that there is much danger in his district of the utter starvation of some of his flock.

News has reached Claremorris, county Mayo, that a man named Clarke, who turned informer in a murder trial, and was subsequently sent to Australia, has been shot dead in that country.

A number of laborers paraded Loughrea and demanded work or food, stating that they were starving. They surrounded the residence of Dr. Duggan, the Catholic Bishop, asking relief, and the Bishop gave them money.

The customary ceremonials in connection with the shutting of the gates of Derry in 1688 were carried by the Orangemen of Derry recently in the usual manner. No disturbance was reported whatever.

An old woman named Anna Lynch fell out of a lobby window in a house in Longford street, Dublin, a depth of 25 feet. At the time of the accident she had an infant child in her arms, which received no injury whatever. The woman's leg was broken in three places. She was conveyed to Richmond Hospital, where she is detained.

About 100 small farmers resident in the parish of Kilmaclassar, near Westport, county Mayo, attended at the Board room there, and applied for employment or outdoor relief. The Chairman of the Board (Lord John Browne) informed them that the Guardians had no power to grant them relief or employment in the way they proposed, but that if they were in a destitute state the workhouse was there to receive them.

He Understood Human Nature.

"Can I see the lady of the house?" inquired the peddler.

"Well, yes, you can, if you ain't blind," snapped the woman who had answered the bell.

"Oh, beg pardon, madam, you are the lady of the house, then?"

"Yes, I am. What d'yer take me for? Did you think I was the gentleman of the house, or the next door neighbor, or one of the farm hands, or the cat, or the ice chest?"

"I didn't know, madam, but you might be the youngest daughter."

"Oh, did ye? Well, that war nat'rl, too," replied the lady of the house. "What d'yer want, sur?"

Then the peddler displayed the wares, and when he left the door step, half an hour later, his face was full of pleasure and his pockets full of money. He understood human nature, and had made a good sale.

Smokers are Unselfish.

New York Times.

Selfishness appears almost invariably to accompany abstinence from tobacco. The man who, for a long series of years, abstains from tobacco, seems to lose all sense of what is due to other people and to be absorbed wholly in seeking his own ease and comfort. The ferryboats afford a forcible illustration of the fact. The cabins designed for ladies are habitually crowded with men who occupy the seats and compel the ladies to stand. These men never smoke. The smokers withdraw to the other cabin, which is usually a dirty and disagreeable place. They never force their way into the ladies' cabin to occupy seats to which men have no right. It is only the non-smokers who exhibit this offensive variety of selfishness, and nothing could more clearly demonstrate the degrading moral effect of not using tobacco.

The Cat and its Adopted Chicken.

Globe-Democrat.

"I was paying a visit to my friend, Mrs. Linchey, in East St. Louis. While there I observed a big black cat playing with a white hen. I called my friend's attention to the extraordinary spectacle of the cat purring at the hen, when the lady remarked 'Oh, that's nothing; that cat is the mother of the chicken.' Mrs. Linchey then told me the cat had driven a sitting hen off her nest last spring, and shortly afterward there was a nest full of kittens and one chicken. From the time the 'chick' struggled through the shell to the present day it has been a member of the feline family. The cat has at all times evinced a maternal care over its feathered ward, and the latter has frequently been seen to perch beside its foster mother. They are frequently together in the barnyard, and enjoy each other's company."

Girls With Forethought.

Detroit Free Press.

Chicago girls never go to the theater with a young man without taking along enough money to buy tickets for both. Then, if the chap discovers that he has been "robbed," they don't have to walk around until the play is over.

A Name of Length, if not of Strength.

Jasper county (Ga.) News.

There was some years ago a gentleman living near Hillsboro, in this county, whose name, we learn was comparative with that of Praise-God-Bare-Bones—it was Younger-Funger-Out-yonder-Stand-farther-Oxit John Quixotic Pilgo Hedgpeth.

At both masses in Banagher, county Kings, on a recent Sunday, the officiating clergymen warned their flock to shun persons "who are at present pervading the country trying to entrap young, unwary people into secret societies, which in the end carry ruin and destruction on their votaries."

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has decided that liquor dealers can not evade the law which prohibits the sale of liquor within 400 feet of a school house.

—The evaporation of black raspberries by the new process is so successful that it keeps up the price of this fruit during the summer. Three and a half quarts of green fruit will make one pound when evaporated. It takes a bushel of apples to make six pounds of dried fruit.—N. Y. Herald.
